

Installation Magicsim Elite Adapter for iPhone X

Preparation for a correct installation

Please handle with care. Don't re-install the adapter on another phone.

- Additionally you can watch our online videos, available in the Tab of each product.
- If your smartphone is 'locked' the adapter might not work with another provider, ask them to unlock it.
- Remove a possibly security PIN on the SIM cards. Go to the menu 'Support' & choose FAQ for more 'how to's'.

- Make sure Both SIM cards are installed correctly: else neither of the SIM cards will work: After installation the contact points/gold part of both the SIM cards should face downwards, while the side of the Magicsim adapter with the black chip should face upward. Place the blunt corners of the SIM cards correctly.
- In the outside simtray of the Magicsim Elite (right side) only fits a standard SIM card. If you have a nano or micro SIM card you need to use nano-to-standard or micro-to-standard SIM card adapter.
- First try both SIM cards in your phone.

Steps for a correct installation

1. Put the nano-to-standard adapter on it's back, so that you can put the SIM card in it, facing the contact points/gold part upwards. To remove possible invisible dirt clean the contact points/ gold part with a handkerchief. Don't touch the contact points.

Put the Magicsim Elite adapter on it's back, with the black chip facing downwards.

- Slide the "nano-to-standard adapter / nano SIM card" combination (contact points/gold part still facing upwards) gently into the standard SIM card slot of the Magicsim adapter. Make sure the nano SIM card does not slip out of the nano-to-standard adapter, when sliding it in.

- When you're finished, the nano SIM card should still be in the Noosy SIM card adapter, so that the contact points of the SIM card connect correctly with the contact points of the adapter.

2. Turn the Magicsim Elite, so the black chip is facing upward. Put the top of the ribbon, from under through the simtray. Click it inside the simtray on top of both inside sides (see 1st pic) of the simtray. Put your nano SIM card on it.

3. Place your index finger under the adapter against the right side of the simtray, so there's at least tolerance as possible when you're folding the Magicsim adapter from right to left over the simtray.

Continue with step 6.

Finish installation

4. Gently slide the simtray and adapter in the simtray of your phone. iPhone XR & higher version the ribbon is situated under the simtray (not like the picture here).

5. Fold the ribbon to the back of the phone and put your phone in the silicone case. Other types of cases have not enough room for the adapter.

6. You should now see the provider of the active SIM card on your phone. If not wait for a minute. Still not, put your iPhone in & out sleepmodus.

In case you can't find the STK-menu (SIM Toolkit), go to our site <https://www.magic-sim.com/support/dual-sim/no-cut/troubleshooting> and scroll down to the FAQ-question: STK-menu: Where find the SIM Toolkit app?

Go to our menu 'Support' & choose FAQ for more detailed information about the installation and the adapter
